

Hosea Doton's
Daily Journal for 1840-1847

Preface

Hosea Doton wrote these entries from February 15, 1840 through March 24, 1847. During this time, he lived in Pomfret, VT with his first wife Lois Paddock Doton. Their daughter Abba was born on August 1, 1840. Hosea does not mention her birth in his diary, and the only clue is that Mrs. Patience Perkins, sister of Lois Paddock Doton, came from her nearby home on the evening of August 1 and stayed with Hosea and his wife for a few days.

The last entry in 1847 noted that he had been hired to do surveying for the "Rail Road," which was under construction in Canaan, NH. He notes that he sold his sheep for $50, sold his farm, and moved his wife and daughter to the home of "Mr. Perkins." This may have been the home of A.C. Perkins and his wife Patience, or the home of Mrs. Lucy Perkins whose husband Nelson Perkins died in 1846. These women were both sisters of Lois Paddock Doton.

The Pomfret Historical Society has twenty-two volumes of diaries by Hosea Doton along with one of his surveying tools and other artifacts.

This transcript includes very minor revisions to spelling and punctuation while trying to retain the original character of the diary. Language, spelling, and punctuation common to the mid-1800s has been preserved. A glossary and brief notes on people mentioned in Hosea Doton's diaries appear at the end of this transcript.
